

The university's mission of excellence in education, research and clinical service depends upon the integrity of the Case community. Members of our community are responsible for upholding our shared values by reporting unethical or illegal conduct to supervisors or appropriate university officials. Such conduct may include:

- Fraudulent or inaccurate financial reporting
- Abuse of university resources
- Misuse of sponsored research funds
- Shortcomings in regulatory compliance
- Conflicts of interest
- Questionable accounting/auditing
- Falsification of timesheets/records
- Improper gifts or gratuities
- Bribes or kickbacks
- Scientific misconduct
- Information security breach
- Harassment or discrimination
- Safety or security hazards
- Theft of university assets or use of such assets for personal benefit

If you feel more comfortable reporting your concerns to a neutral third party, you may do so by contacting the Integrity Hotline.
