Information for the CFAR Scientific Retreat Poster Competition

Dear Students and Postdocs:

We look forward to your participation in this year's CFAR Internal Scientific Retreat, which will be held on Thursday January 31, 2013 at the Dively Building. As you know, a special feature at this year's retreat will be the poster session, at which all posters will be judged for a cash prize. At this time we would like to provide more detailed information on the poster session.

WHO WILL SUBMIT AN ABSTRACT FOR POSTER PRESENTATION?

All graduate students and postdoctoral fellows who are conducting HIV/AIDS research are expected to submit abstracts as part of their training experience. Graduate students from other programs who work with faculty that are CFAR members are also encouraged to submit an abstract.

WHEN ARE ABSTRACTS DUE?

All abstracts are due by 5:00 p.m. on Monday, January 14, 2013.

WHAT ARE THE ABSTRACT GUIDELINES?

1. Please list all authors including the mentor; underline your name.
2. Please list the primary departmental affiliation and institution.
3. Abstracts should not be more than 2000 characters and spaces, in font Times Roman (aka Times New Roman) size 11 only. Additionally, all are required in Microsoft Word format.

Abstracts not conforming to these guidelines will be returned.

HOW DO I SUBMIT MY ABSTRACT?

Your abstract should be emailed as a Microsoft Word document by 5:00 p.m. on Monday, January 14, 2013 to Karen at kxf111@case.edu
You will receive a confirmation that your abstract has been received.

NIDCR Clinical Trial or Biomarker Clinical Evaluation Study Planning Grant

The NIDCR will support clinical trial or biomarker clinical evaluation study planning grants (R34) for comprehensive planning, design and documentation of investigator-initiated Phase I, II, III, or IV interventional clinical trials, or biomarker clinical evaluation studies that involve prospective collection of specimens and clinical outcomes. Interventional behavioral studies, sometimes referred to as Stage I, II, III or IV studies, are included. The goal of the R34 grant program is to give investigators the time and funds necessary to complete detailed clinical trial or study planning and written supporting documentation prior to U01 funding and full implementation of a clinical trial or study. The R34 grant will provide up to one year of support. R34 awardees who complete their planning activities and have compelling justification to proceed to a clinical trial or biomarker clinical evaluation study can submit a cooperative agreement application (U01) for clinical trial implementation or biomarker clinical evaluation study (details are presented in PAR-11-339). If the investigators conclude that a clinical trial or biomarker clinical evaluation study is not warranted, the reasons for not proceeding with the U01 implementation application must be documented in the final progress report to the NIDCR that summarizes the R34 award activity.

Healthy Habits: Timing for Developing Sustainable Healthy Behaviors in Children and Adolescents

Encourages applications targeting basic or applied research, depending on the state of the science. Where there is evidence of the value of an approach to developing healthy sustainable behavior, but there are key questions that are yet to be answered, then an intervention of limited scale would be appropriate. Before the large, rigorous and well-designed studies that are required to address these questions can be implemented, important early-phase research and development must be completed. In order to elucidate the optimal research strategy, a number of steps are necessary (f) 2013 (ch) 2013 (p) 07-00-11-23. 4812 (e) (h) 34-58 (f) 26-53 (h) 21 (j) 16-17

The National Library of Medicine (NLM) awards Grants for Scholarly Works in Biomedicine and Health for the preparation of book-length manuscripts and other scholarly works of value to U.S. health professionals, public health officials, biomedical researchers, and historians of the health sciences. Grants are awarded for major critical reviews, state-of-the-art summaries, historical studies, and other useful organizations of knowledge in clinical medicine, public health, biomedical research, and the informatics/information sciences relating to them. The scholarly work may be prepared for publication in print or electronic media, or both.

Epigenomics of Virus-Associated Oral Disease

The purpose of this FOA is to invite grant applications that seek to determine the epigenetic mechanisms of virus-associated oral diseases in order to guide the discovery and application of novel epigenomic-based clinical interventions. Specifically, studies supported through this FOA are expected to demonstrate how epigenomic modifications in the host and in oral viruses cause pathophysiological changes in oral cells and tissues that result in oral diseases and that may include systemic disease manifestations.
