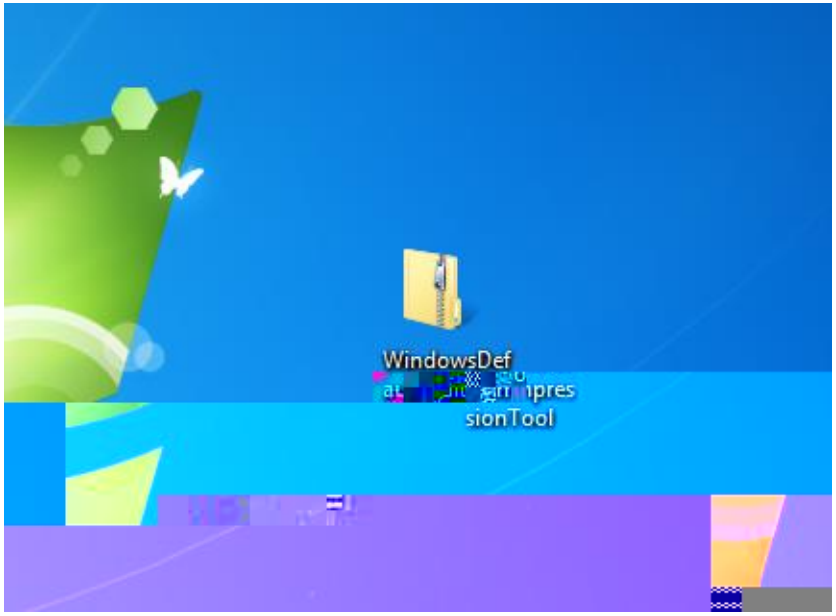
Introduction



Zip folders is a quick way of reducing, and transporting, files that are oversized given the circumstances.

² ƛyŘ2øă т l·yŘ y KI·ă ŭKŜ ŘŜŦI·ʤfŭ ΨCompressed Folder⍰ tool for basic file compression needs.

This tutorial would address two methods of utilizing the default Windows Compression Tool. Method A simply creates a Zip folder. Method B creates a Zip folder from an existing normal folder.

All images are stock photos used in our demo environment

Method A - Step 1:

- To quickly create a Zip Folder ΨRight Mouse ClickΩ ƨy˘èƨdzℕ desktop or, within a opened folder.
- Reposition your mouse pointer ƨØŜℕ ŭKŜ ΨNewΩ ƨLJŭƛƨyΦ
- When the secondary options expand, reposition your mouse LJƨƛyűŜℕ ƨØŜℕ ŭKŜ ΨCompressed (zipped) FolderΩ l·yŘ ΨLeft Mouse Click

Method A ς Step 2:

- Give your Zip folder a appropriate name and click ΨEnterΩ 2γ˘è2ƌzℕ ⌈ŜèõƧI·ℕŘ ØKŜγ˘ Ř2γŜ 2ℕΣ ΨLeft Mouse ClickΩ I·ØI·è from the folder.

All images are stock photos used in our demo environment

Method A ς Step 3:

Next, open the zip folder and either ΨDrag n Dropῼ ƧℕΣ ΨCopy/Pasteῼ ₹ƛfŜă into it.

Method B ς Step 1:

- First ensure all of the files you need to Zip is contained in the folder

Method B ς Step 2:

- bŜȆű ΨwƛƎKű a ƨʤžŜ /fƛǑʅΩ ƨƴűKŜ ŦƨfŘŜℕ℗
- bl·ØƛƎl·űŜ èƨʤℕ Yƨ ʻ űKŜ Å

Method B ς Step 3:

- A Zip folder is created with the appropriate name or, you can rename it accordingly.

All images are stock photos used in our demo environment