

Title:

Date Approved:

Effective Date:

Responsible Officials

Date of Last Review:

Relates to:

Each school shall review its course offerings to ensure that the number of credit hours awarded is consistent with the effort requirements and the definition of a credit hour (copied below), especially for courses that do not have a formal syllabus (e.g., content that can be delivered in one academic hour of contact time each week for the full duration of one academic semester, typically fourteen weeks along with a final examination period).

For courses taught in other than lecture format (e.g., seminars, laboratories, an amount of content and/or student effort that that described in (2) above.