

Elizabeth M. Tracy, MSW, LISW, Ph.D.
Professor Emerita

Elizabeth M. Tracy is the Grace Longwell Coyle Professor (PHULWD in Social Work at the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel School of Applied Social Sciences. 7UDF\|V UHVH DUFK I F EHHQ WKH GHYHORSPHQW DQG Hyodes and Methods which VRFLDO Z F support families, make use of natural helping networks, and incorporate environmental helping strategies. Her scholarly work has focused on clinically useful ways to assess social support and social networks, the development of key practices skills for social network interventions, and the role of social network and other environmental helping strategies in program implementation. The body of her work on social networks and social support has been applied to family preservation programs, residential settings, youth, early intervention, community mental health case management programs. QGX E V W D E W H H DW P U H Q R V P H Q. , QD G G L W P L R Q F K Q G F J R O D W 7 U K D S D W H U D M C F K D L W K I D Q G H O 6 F K R G B F W S R U R D D S Associate dean for research and training$ Ü "Ö$†@PäÀ 0 ø Nz “~ I